

Welcome to the LAW OF ATTRACTION Vision Board Clip Art Book for Women

At PositiveMind Studio, we create books and tools designed to bring more positivity, clarity, intention, and inspiration into everyday life. This book was created for people who want more than a beautiful collage, for people who want to visualize with purpose and build a vision that feels aligned, meaningful, and real.

A vision board can be many things: a creative ritual, a motivational tool, a reset moment, a reflection of your dreams, or a daily reminder of the person you are becoming. In this book, we bring those ideas together through a practical and inspiring approach that combines Law of Attraction principles with a structured creative method.

Why a Law of Attraction Vision Board?

The Law of Attraction is often described as the idea that what we consistently focus on, with emotion, belief, and intention, can influence the direction of our lives.

Whether you see it as a spiritual practice, a mindset tool, or a way to train your attention, one thing is clear:

what you repeatedly focus on tends to shape your choices, your energy, and your actions.

A vision board helps you do exactly that.

It gives your goals and intentions a visual home. It helps you:

- get clear on what you truly want
- connect emotionally to your future vision
- reinforce beliefs that support growth
- stay focused on what matters
- take more aligned action in everyday life

In other words, this is not only about “attracting”. It is also about clarifying, aligning, and moving forward.

And remember: if you can think it clearly, you can start building it!

A core principle of the Law of Attraction is not only visualization, but alignment, thinking and behaving in a way that supports the future you want.

Try this mindset: imagine you are already in that future, then ask yourself how that version of you thinks, chooses, and acts today. Don’t visualize your future life as something separate from you. Start bringing parts of it into your present life now.

This doesn’t mean pretending everything is perfect. It means practicing the mindset, habits, and actions that move you in the right direction.

You don’t need to be extreme about it. Just stay consistent: visualize, believe, and do.

This book will help you create that visualization and turn it into an initial, practical plan.

The C.L.A.R.I.T.Y. method to your vision board

To make this process easier (and more powerful), this book is designed to support a simple structure inspired by the C.L.A.R.I.T.Y. method. You can use this method as a guide when building your board so it becomes more intentional and less random.

C — Choose the Core Theme

Start by choosing the main theme of your board.

This is the central idea, direction, or “chapter” you want your board to represent.

Examples: a new beginning; calm growth; abundance and expansion; health reset; love and connection; career breakthrough; balanced life.

At this stage, you can also select a few visual elements or images that represent the overall feeling of your board.

Helpful libraries:

- Library 1 — Identity and Intention (for theme words and direction)
- Library 5 — Lifestyle, Mood and Future Experiences (for visual inspiration)

L — Lay the Emotional and Identity Foundation

Now build the emotional tone of your board.

This step is about choosing beliefs that support your vision, identity words that describe who you are becoming, phrases and prompts that reflect your mindset and energy.

This is the “inner layer” of the board, the part that gives it meaning beyond images.

Ask yourself: Who am I becoming in this season? What mindset do I want to practice? What words describe the energy of this board?

Helpful libraries:

- Library 2 — Belief and Alignment

A — Areas of Life

Choose the life areas you want to include in your board.

Not every board needs to cover everything. Some boards are focused on one area, while others include multiple areas of life.

Examples of life areas: love & relationships; money & abundance; career & business; health & wellbeing; home & lifestyle; creativity & purpose; travel & experiences; habits & routines.

Use icons and visual cues to organize these areas so your board feels balanced and easy to read.

Helpful libraries:

- Library 3 — Life Area Icons (for specific life areas)
- Library 5 — Lifestyle, Mood and Future Experiences (for further visual inspiration)

R — Real Goals and Milestones

Once your life areas are defined, add real goals for each one.

This is where your board becomes more than inspiration, it becomes direction.

Add: specific ambitions; goals; milestones; target dates (if useful).

This step helps transform ideas into a clearer path.

Ask yourself: What do I want to achieve in each area? What would progress look like? What milestone would make me feel I am moving forward?

Helpful library:

- Library 4 — Goals and Milestones

I — Illustrate the Future Experience

Now strengthen the visualization.

Add images, mood elements, and lifestyle scenes that represent how you want your future to feel, look, and flow, not only what you want to achieve.

This is where your board becomes emotionally compelling.

Examples: home atmosphere; wellness routines; work style / creative environment; travel moments; calm mornings; confident lifestyle energy. This step helps you connect with the experience of your vision, not just the outcome.

Helpful library:

- Library 5 — Lifestyle, Mood and Future Experiences

T — Take Action

Turn the vision into momentum.

Add practical action prompts, habits, and reminder stickers that support your goals. This creates a bridge between inspiration and real life.

This is the part that helps you answer: What do I need to do regularly? What habits support this version of me? What actions move these goals forward?

Examples: planning; follow-up actions; wellness habits; learning routines; relationship actions; business/career next steps.

Y — Yearly (or Ongoing) Review: Your Board, Your Evolution

Your board is not static. It can evolve with you.

The final step of the C.L.A.R.I.T.Y. Method is to review, update, and adapt your board regularly.

You can revisit it: weekly (quick check-in); monthly (small updates); seasonally (bigger reset); yearly (new chapter / new board).
